

The Snigglewig Snyke

The Snigglewig Snyke may look fuzzy,
But beware, don't stare, because it may bite.

It lives on the mountains, higher, higher, when will it stop?
On top of its back is a thorny score of giant spikes!

Eyes so bright that if you looked at them for too long,
You would go blind!

But if he ate by the purple lake,
He would get a terrible ache!

The villagers quail and quake,
"Beware make no mistake,

He's got the ache from eating by the purple lake...
..We need help, please oh please!"
