A big dragon tree was growing close to the entrance of the beautiful garden - but the dragon eggs were the wrong colour because the Queen wanted them as red as crimson but they had grown sky blue, So the rabbits were hurriedly colouring the eggs. Millie thought this a very unusual thing and she went closer and she heard one of them say "Watch out four, don't get your pen on me," "I could not help it as 6 nudged my elbow," said four in a upset tone.
